
Condensed mathematics is built on profinite sets; the Cantor set is the prototype.